Collieries Planning $8 Million Program

Council Approve 7 Day Work Week

Coleman council, at its meeting Tuesday gave permission to Tollestrup Construction Company, who are installing the town's sewerage system, to work seven days per week.

This was done so that the contractors can take advantage of the present good weather to catch up on the work. The contractors had lost some time due to inclement weather, water problems and late arrival of equipment and supplies for the system.

Council complained the contractors for the good work they are doing on the main street as the contractors who are installing the main sewerage lines down the centre of the main street are only doing small sections at a time and cleaning up as they go along so that business premises on the main street are not affected for any great length of time.

Approval was given to the payment of $29,000 on the progress certificate to Tollestrup Construction of Lethbridge.

The resignation of Fire Chief John Kinnear was accepted with regret. Mr. Kinnear resigned due to work commitments. Henry Zak was appointed as Fire Chief to replace Mr. Kinnear.

Councillor Mel Cornett was appointed to represent the town and lay the wreath at the annual Memorial Day Service on November 11 at the Cenotaph.

Council deferred appointment of a town representative to act on the Emergency Measures Operations group to replace Councillor Joe Hanrahan, who resigned from the council last month.

A contract was signed by the town with East Kootenay Power

F. J. Harquail, president of Coleman Collieries Limited, stated that the Collieries is planning an extensive coal expansion program to supply Japanese coal markets.

Coking coal from the Coleman reserves has proven very satisfactory to Japanese steel mills, and demand for more has prompted the Collieries to expand their holdings and they have acquired additional coal lands in the Race Horse and Dutch Creek areas, north of the company's present Vicary Creek mine, which is 12 miles north of Coleman.

Early this spring the company acquired the services of a prominent American geologist, Dr. V. Johnson, who has been working full time conducting drilling and prospecting ventures on the Collieries coal lands.

Prospecting has disclosed that the company has in excess of 50 million tons of reserve coking coal ready for a development program. Mr. Harquail stated that Coleman Collieries is planning construction of a new coal cleaning plant which could be located either at the mouth of the present Vicary Creek mine or on the Dutch Creek or Race Horse Creek developments. Cost of the plant and other equipment would be approximately $8 million.

Construction of the new plant would result in the building of a rail spur line to tie in with the present Canadian Pacific Railway, possibly at Cowley or another site.

Mr. Harquail said Coleman Collieries were very interested in the possibility of a rail line being built from Eureka, Mont., to Michel, B. C., to tie in with the Great Northern Railway with a view to obtaining a more realistic freight rate for coal shipments to the west coast.

Students Enjoy Art Exhibit

Grade four students at Cameron School were hosts to teachers and other students of Coleman schools this week, featuring an art exhibit that displayed water color and some oil paintings from students all over the world.

The exhibit was arranged by the Red Cross as part of a program to develop understanding among the young people of the world. There were 63 countries participating in the exchange of school art, correspondence, albums and handicrafts.

The exhibit at Coleman featured paintings from Czechoslovakia, Lebanon, Uruguay, Yugoslavia, South India, Japan, Romania, Hungary, Venezuela, Poland, Hawaii, Unvuk, N.W.T., Korea, Vietnam, Italy, Greenland, Argentina, many of the United States and provinces of Canada.

A total of 68 colorful little flags from countries of the world were also displayed. School janitor John Wavrean, arranged and set up the colorful display in the school recreation room.

The grade four class at Cameron school has, during the past 20 years, been an active member of the Junior Red Cross and the various classes of students over the years have sent donations to the Junior Red Cross every year. The school has furnished a room in the Crippled Children's Hospital in Calgary.

The picture and flag display was made available to teacher Mrs. William Beck, who has been a member for many years.

Much comment was made on the excellence of many of the entries in the display as to the capability of the young people who exhibited pieces of art in the event.

Perspective, blending of color schemes, illustrated the thinking of the young people of other nations in the world as they portrayed life and industry in their individual countries.

Missionary From South Africa To speak here

Wallace Logan, who has spent 42 years in Central Africa as a missionary, will be speaking in the Miners' hall, Coleman, on October 29 at 8 p.m.

Hear a first hand report on changing Africa and what is going on there.

The Logans raised a family of seven children, 600 miles from the nearest store, and have many interesting stories to tell.

Plans Finalized For Remembrance Day

Final plans are being made for the annual Remembrance Day parade and Cenotaph Services to be held by the Coleman Branch No. 9, Royal Canadian Legion.

The parade under Parade Marshal N. Hammer, will assemble in the Central School yard at 1 p.m. The parade will fall in at 1:15 p.m., headed by the Color Party and Crows Nest Pass Band under direction of Bandmaster F. Edl. It will proceed to the Cenotaph at which the services will be held at approximately 1:30 p.m.

All veterans are being asked to participate in this parade and service—not only those who are members of the Legion.

It is a time of Remembrance and many will remember comrades they left on the battlefield, and will give thanks that they returned to carry on their lives again. It is asked that all decorations and medals be also worn.

Following the parade and service a social will be held in the Legion hall club rooms.

It is hoped that members of the Scouts, Cubs, Brownies and Junior Forest Wardens will participate in this parade as in former years, with the wonderful support they have always given us.

Final program and parade route for the services will be given in the November 3rd issue of The Journal.

Coleman Couple Enjoy Silver Wedding Anniversary

Approximately 150 friends and relatives gathered in the Elks hall recently to honor Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vrskovy on the occasion of their Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary.

As "The Anniversary Waltz" was played by Mrs. J. Spivak, the couple were presented with corsages and escorted to the head table which was flanked with pink and white streamers, silver candelabra and centred with a two-tiered anniversary cake.

Father Krewsky said Grace after which a delicious banquet was served by the hostesses.

Father Krewsky, acting as the master of ceremonies, proposed a toast to Mr. and Mrs. Vrskovy to which Mr. Vrskovy ably replied.

Father Krewsky commended the couple on having raised such a lovely family—Mrs. Robert (Lydia) DePellegrin of Trail, B. C., who was present with her husband and Stephen of Brandon, Man., who was unable to attend.

Telegrams of good wishes were read, and gifts of silver, floral arrangements, cards and a purse of money were received by the couple.

An evening of dancing and refreshments was enjoyed by all before departing for their homes after a wonderful occasion. Best wishes for many more years of happy married life were extended to the couple by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Vrskovy were married in the Holy Ghost Roman Catholic Church in Coleman on October 12, 1940.

Could it happen to you? Mental illness, that is. Well, if you think it couldn't read what happened to two families, the Browns and the Joneses. Their stories are told in a free pamphlet issued by your Mental Health Association. Write today—ask for "Two Families." Jenkins, Cocciolone New Councillors

Tony Cocciolone, well known Department of Highways worker, topped the polls in a three way race for two seats on Coleman council in the civic election held October 18th.

Mr. Cocciolone topped the poll with 223 votes, and the other successful candidate was Jack Jenkins, who tallied a total of 191 votes. Mr. Jenkins is caretaker at the local schools.

Defeated in the council race was Gordon Dunford, who polled an even 100 votes. There were eight spoiled ballots.

Fire Brigade Elects New Officers

The Coleman Volunteer Fire Brigade under Fire Chief Henry Zak held a reorganizational meeting in the fire hall this week when a new slate of officers was elected to head the active brigade.

Ed Amell was elected assistant Fire Chief, and John Wavrean and Russell Montalbetti were elected captains. Feruccio DeCocco will take over duties of secretary.

Fire Chief Zak stated that efforts are to be made to bring the brigade up to a full strength of 22 members.

Plans are now being made by the brigade to hold a giant bingo in the Elks hall on Monday, December 20th. Proceeds from this affair are earmarked by the brigade for various functions including essay and poster contest, sponsored by the brigade during Fire Prevention Week.

Are YOU happy in your work? If you are, you are one of the lucky ones, for lots of people aren't. CMHA can help you learn how to derive more satisfaction from your job, with a free pamphlet entitled "Satisfaction Guaranteed." Write to the Canadian Mental Health Association, 618 Revillon Building, Edmonton.

Once again this year the Coleman Branch, Royal Canadian Legion, will be asking you to buy a Poppy, the symbol of sacrifice to all who have served their country and have sacrificed their lives to protect it.

Poppies will be on sale on Friday, November 5th. It is hoped that all those who purchase these remembrances will let their thoughts go back to the men and women who gave their lives and those who were wounded and were unable to come back and take up normal lives again.

Each poppy, a symbol of those that grew in Flanders Fields, and covered the graves of brave men, are made by wounded and handicapped veterans whose livelihood depends on you and I to help them to be useful citizens again.

So, remember, when you buy and wear a Poppy on Poppy Day and when we stand in silence on Remembrance Day, it is a Thank You to all those who made great sacrifices so that we all may live to pursue our lives and happiness.

Architect's perspective drawing of the Alberta Research Council's new one and half million dollar pilot plant at Clover Bar shows the main plant (left) and laboratory building. Construction on the foundations and structural steel for the pilot plant have been completed, with the remainder of the building to be completed in October, 1965. Construction has started on the laboratory building with completion set for March 1, 1966. The new complex will enable the Research Council to expand their activities in developing of new products and processes for Alberta industry, and may also lead to the development of new industry in the province.

Making Fun Of Fowler

It is possible that Canadian politics may again have some fun with Mr. Fowler, the pulp and paper executive who habitually heads commissions on Canadian broadcasting.

Mr. Fowler gets appointed by Liberal governments, but when he devises bureaucracies to run broadcasting, the Liberals aren't always on hand to choose the bureaucrats!

Mr. Fowler first recommended the Board of Broadcast Governors. But the Liberal government that had appointed him got tossed out of power. So Mr. Diefenbaker and his cabinet selected the BBG. It was a good body and though it clashed both with CBC and the Private Broadcasters a few times, it was fair to both, and there was a big improvement over the old regime where there was a single authority.

But lo, Diefenbaker lost power, and the Liberals couldn't tolerate a BBG on which Tories were sitting. So they again turned to Mr. Fowler, and appointed him to make still another study. He studied, and decided he'd done wrong and that his BBG wouldn't work.

Conveniently, he came up with a new Board, to be called the CBA, and it would have even more power, and no doubt Liberals would sit on it. Politics is some game!

But now there's an election, and it could be that Mr. Fowler's new invention will also be taken over by the hated Tories. If Mr. Fowler has to do this whole thing over again in a few years, it will be interesting to see what kind of a Board he comes up with then.

Not so amusing is the fact that Mr. Fowler was right the first time. The BBG, which he recommended, did good work, and broadcasting made a little more headway than it had done in the years before. The BBG clashed on a few occasions with private broadcasters and with the CBC, but was fair to both. If there must be a Board at all, the BBG was the proper kind. It seems a shame to get rid of it for what appears to be largely political reasons!

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

"We Shall Banish Want"

It was an inspiring statement. It said:—"We shall banish want; we shall banish fear. The essence of National Socialism is human welfare . . . National Socialism is the revolution of the common man. Rooted in a fuller life for every German from childhood to old age, National Socialism means a new day of abundance at home and a better world order abroad . . ."

Some of you will have guessed who said it. It was Adolph Hitler!

I remembered it as I read a letter to the editor in the NDP paper, The Commonwealth. The writer was deploring the fact that, "We have not socialism in our NDP any more. We did have many years ago when it started." The writer recalled the days when Mr. Coldwell sneered at reformers as merely putting salve on sores. But now Mr. Coldwell is a reformer himself, along with the present leader of the party, and they have abandoned socialism.

The letter writer goes on to say, bitterly, of leaders, that "They are only human and have weaknesses, they become comfortable and like applause and esteem (from, often, quite ignorant people) and gradually forget all their high ideals and go in for reform and do not like to disturb the placid waters of the status quo."

The lady who wrote this letter wants socialism, and grieves that Coldwell and Douglas and the NDP have departed from it.

On the other hand, I rejoice that they have apparently departed from it. I wish they would turn completely towards freedom and renounce compulsion as a way of life.

Fear and want cannot be banished except by responsible individual human beings meeting and solving the problems of their environment, and then acting with charity toward those unable to do so. Set men free, and in a voluntary society charity would have a real chance to blossom. And there would be an abundance at hand to make charity effective.

UNICEF And Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en is that magic, mystical night of the year when even grey-beards become young in heart. Knocking at the door are ghostly or fantastic figures, costumed, wearing mother's high-heeled shoes, false faces, funny noses, and carrying the UNICEF Hallowe'en collection box.

The traditional treats given the youngsters are taken with gay abandon. But to the fun has been added the joy of sharing Canadian good fortune.

UNICEF (United Nation's Children's Fund) money collected at Hallowe'en go to the International

UNICEF budget.

Funds are used to provide food, finance welfare clinics, equip hospitals and schools, fight the enemies of helpless children—hunger, disease and ignorance.

Hallowe'en in Canada is not only a night for fun and frolic but also an occasion for sharing Canadian good fortune with those who have so little.

The United Nation's Children's Fund (UNICEF) is the bearer of good tidings, the dispenser of friendship, the helping hand freely offered and gratefully received.

Ernie Patterson Sacred Candidate

Ernie Patterson, Federal Social Credit candidate for Macleod, said in a prepared statement that he believes the only solution to the present confused situation in federal politics in Canada is coalition government.

If Prime Minister Pearson really was concerned about his minority position and if he had the best interests of the Canadian nation at heart, he would have publicly invited one of the smaller parties, in the last parliament, to join him in governing Canada.

He could have offered one or two cabinet posts to the smaller party of his choice, and thus the two could have worked together to govern Canada. This has been done in Europe, why could it not have been done here?

When we look back over the past eight years and realize that we have had five general elections, each costing some $12 million, or a total of $60 millions, of the taxpayers' money, then it is time that we should take a new look at federal politics in Canada.

Mr. Diefenbaker could have done this in 1962 and Mr. Pearson could have done it in 1963.

The latest Gallup Poll shows that over half of the voters in Canada believe that neither the Liberals or Conservative parties will win enough seats in the current election to form a majority government. In view of this fact, the Canadian voter should ask himself seriously has Mr. Diefenbaker or Mr. Pearson put the Canadian nation or his own political fortunes first? The answer is obvious. Both men were not statesmen, but simply power hungry politicians.

Some will say let us go back to the two party system. I believe, said Mr. Patterson, that our minority parties are here to stay in Canadian politics because neither of the two major parties in Canadian politics are willing to put forth policies that can be supported by all the voters. In other words, the two major parties are chiefly to blame for the fact that we have more than two political parties in Canada.

Calling federal elections is not going to solve the present dilemma facing political parties in Canada. Rather, our leaders must put Canada ahead of party and they all must work together for the good of the Canadian nation. This means a coalition of two or more parties to form a stable government.

(Signed) Ernie Patterson,
Federal Social Credit
Candidate for Macleod.

New Safety Chief Plans Strong Program

Keith MacDonald, of Montreal, elected Friday (1) General Chairman of Canadian Highway Safety Council, told CHSC's annual meeting in Ottawa of strong plans to reduce Canada's increasing record of highway death and injury. His basic plan includes:

Education and improvement for drivers.

Wider promotion of defensive driving techniques.

Cultivating deeper respect for authority and the law.

Greater emphasis on driving courtesy.

Seeking co-operation of advertisers in stressing road safety.

More stringent standards for granting licenses.

Wider application of licence suspension as punishment and deterrent for traffic offenders.

Mr. MacDonald, native of Bruce County in Ontario, one-time news writer, and widely known and active in business and financial circles in Canada and the United States, is vice-president and deputy general manager of Industrial Acceptance Corp. Ltd. As the Council's general chairman he succeeds John Atkinson of Toronto, president of Allstate Insurance Companies.

Periodic re-examination of drivers was advocated by Mr. MacDonald. "We will work for acceptance of driver tests at five-year intervals up to age 70, and testing every two years thereafter," he said.

"We must overcome the factors in our society," he stated, "that have resulted in a breakdown of authority. By this I visualize the strengthening of our enforcement establishments, municipal, provincial and federal." He also sought revision of laws, particularly in respect to drinking and driving. "We need a uniform traffic code in all parts of the country and consistent enforcement of that code," he stated.

Mr. MacDonald cautioned that millions of visitors to Canada in 1967 would travel by car. "What they think of Canada on their return will be importantly influenced by the courtesy of our drivers," he told the delegates. "We want them to think of us as civilized, considerate, hospitable people. If our highway manners reflect courtesy they will remember us in this way."

Referring to the effectiveness of licence suspension as a deterrent, Mr. MacDonald said, "What better deterrent to a club member than that his club privileges be cancelled if he proves an undesirable member? So on the highway, if a driver persists in offending, why not rule him off the road?"

Prog. Conservative Meeting at Frank

On Wednesday evening, October 6th, Dr. Lawrence E. Kindt, MP for Macleod Riding, and his campaign manager, Clarence Rhyasen met with a large and enthusiastic group of Progressive Conservative workers at Turtle Mountain Inn at Frank.

The meeting, presided over by Lorne Chrystal, president of the Crow's Nest Pass Regional Progressive Conservative Association, completed the poll organization in the Crow's Nest Pass.

It was mentioned at the meeting that the coal shipments to Japan, establishment of the National Energy Board, followed by gas shipment to the United States, and building of the plant at Sentinel and other industries, have been the outgrowth of developments undertaken by the former Progressive Conservative government and Dr. Lawrence E. Kindt, Member of Parliament for the Macleod Riding.

Letter to the Editor

Nanton, Alberta,

Oct. 9, 1966.

Mr. C. R. Crump,
President,
Canadian Pacific Railway,
Montreal, Que.

Dear Sir:

The CPR increased the freight rate on coal 15¢ per ton from the Crow's Nest Pass to Port Moody on coal shipments to Japan. The purpose of this letter is two-fold:

1. A request to have this freight increase cancelled.
2. A request for the CPR to modernize its methods of transporting coal so as to reduce freight rate charges and improve service.

The obsolete methods now used by the CPR are appalling, causing annoying delays and inefficient operation. Modernization would include unit trains designed to handle coal only, quickly and cheaply and would commute solely between the mines in the Crow's Nest Pass and Port Moody. Such methods brought into being by the United States railroads under competition lowered freight rates by one-third. This is what we want to see the CPR do for the Crow's Nest Pass and the coal industry.

When the Diefenbaker government at my request initiated this project of coal shipments to Japan, it was expected by everyone concerned that handling charges would be reduced as volume shipments increased. Instead, the CPR not satisfied with $5.13 per ton, approximately $4 million worth of business from coal shipments to Japan, has failed to modernize, and has used its monopoly position to raise rates by 15¢ per ton, in defiance of all requests and in the midst of an election. This is now a political issue of the first magnitude. Freight rates are basic to the economy of the Crow's Nest Pass.

The committee on Railways and Canals of the House of Commons, of which I am a member, has been grappling with railroad problems and perhaps this problem should be dropped into this committee's lap unless more direct methods are successful.

Yours sincerely,
Lawrence E. Kindt, M.P.,
Macleod Federal Constituency.

Chip Lake Girl Wins Special Award From Calgary Power Ltd.

It was almost Christmas. Just three days more to go. Four-year-old Doris Pollard could hardly wait! But everything wasn't just right at the Pollard home. Some of the farm animals were sick. The veterinarian had just arrived and had gone out to the barn with Mrs. Pollard to see what he could do.

Doris was playing in the living room with her two little brothers Ricky and Gary. Her baby sister Sharon was in her crib. She was only nine months old, but could hear the fun going on in the living room, and was anxious to join her sister and brothers. Doris wanted to pick her up but remembered her mother's warning about never lifting the baby out of the crib.

Suddenly, there was a bang! Doris thought the stove had "fallen down". Sparks from the stove were everywhere — a terrifying sight! Doris told her two brothers to run out of the house. She followed behind and called to her mother. However, Mrs. Pollard didn't hear Doris—the barn was too far away. Doris rushed back into the burning house — lifted Sharon from her crib and carried her outside.

Imagine the quandary the little girl was in? Her mother had told her never to pick the baby up . . . but the house was on fire and she had to carry Sharon to safety.

When Doris' mother saw the children she rushed to the house, but found it ablaze. Doris had rescued her two brothers and sister. A pretty unusual deed for a little four-year-old girl!

It was for this courageous act that Doris Pollard received a Special Award from Calgary Power Ltd. She was too young to receive a Junior Citizen of the Year Award so instead was given a special citation and a $50 cheque at the Wildwood and District Agricultural Society banquet on October 2nd.

The award was made in connection with the Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor owned electric utility companies with the co-operation of Alberta's Weekly Newspapers.

The award was presented by Edward Nelson, local manager, Calgary Power Ltd.

Among those attending the Wildwood banquet were the editor of the nominating newspaper, the Western Review, Fred Edwards, Divisional Supervisor, the Calgary Power Ltd. and Tim Fimlis, Advertising Assistant, Calgary Power Ltd.

We don't like to talk about suicide, do we? Yet suicide takes as many Canadian lives each year as traffic accidents, and on an astonishing proportion of them are young people. Another tragic fact is that a great many could be prevented, if we knew a little more about suicide. The Mental Health Association will be happy to send you a free pamphlet entitled 'Some Facts About Suicide.' Write to the Canadian Mental Health Association, six-one-eight Revillon Building Edmonton.

Newspapers are more than purveyors of news; they also have a hand in creating it by digging it out of news sources who don't realize they have a news story.

DO YOUR WINTER PLANNING NOW

Plan now to get all those jobs done this winter. Things like having the lawnmower fixed, and the screens mended; having the car tuned up and outboard motor checked; having the drapes cleaned and the rugs shampooed; having the furniture re-upholstered and the electrical appliances repaired; having all those repair and renovation jobs done which can call for a long wait come Spring, but which can be handled quickly, efficiently and easily during the winter season. Ask your bank about a low-interest NHA Home Improvement Loan. Plan ahead. Be a Winter-planner now.

Everybody benefits when winter work is increased

It's easy to buy 1965 Canada Savings Bonds.

Just walk in and say:
"I want some Canada Savings Bonds."

No one will act surprised. They'll smile, nod and give you an application. It's a very simple form. You fill in your name, address, and who you want registered as the owner. Then you choose the amount you want to buy—from $50 up (the limit is $10,000 per person).

A couple of signatures later, and you're all set. Quick. Simple. Friendly.

And you get bonds which pay you an average annual yield of 5.03% when you hold them to maturity. Of course your bonds are instantly cashable any time for their full face value plus earned interest.

Who sells them? You can get yours on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work—or from your bank, investment dealer, stock broker, trust or loan company.

Walk in this week and buy some. Cash or terms, Canada Savings Bonds are a great way to save.

VIEWING HIGHLIGHTS FOR THE COMING WEEK

OCTOBER 22 - 29

Another NHL hockey season begins on CBC television Saturday night. The Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens open their season at the Forum against the Detroit Red Wings.

There will be no NHL hockey broadcasts on Saturday nights this year. Instead, the away games of the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Montreal Canadiens will be broadcast from arenas of their American opponents on Sunday nights. Thus hockey fans can see a game Saturday night and hear another one on Sunday night.

The NFL football game Sunday afternoon will pit the high scoring St. Louis Cardinals against the rugged Washington Redskins at Busch Stadium in St. Louis.

Singer Shirley Harmer makes her dramatic debut in "Point of Impact", a drama by George Robertson on Show of the Week Monday evening at 9 o'clock. She plays an ambitious vocalist whose affair with a television news commentator comes to light when the commentator becomes the prime suspect in a hit-and-run case.

Festival, Wednesday, October 27 at 9:30 p.m., will feature a concert by tenor Jon Vickers and the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Karl Boehm, followed by a short drama entitled "Childhood", by American novelist and playwright, Thornton Wilder.

To open the concert, Dr. Boehm will direct the orchestra in a performance of Mozart's "Haffner" Symphony No. 35 in D major. Mr. Vickers will sing Florestan's great aria from the second act of Fidelio by Beethoven, and this will be followed by Dr. Boehm and the orchestra in a performance of Beethoven's Leonore Overture No. 3. Mr. Vickers will sing the Sword Monologue and Spring Song, both from Wagner's Die Walkure, and then Dr. Boehm and the orchestra will bring the concert to triumphant conclusion with a rousing performance of the overture to Die Meistersinger by Wagner.

Childhood explores the separated worlds of children and adults thru the fantasy of a game of make-believe. Sean Sullivan will be seen as the father, Vanya Franck, as the mother, and Deborah Hancock, Kirstin Campbell and Danny MacIlravan as the children.

Herman and his Hermits head the bill of fare on the Ed Sullivan Show Sunday, October 24th at 8 p.m. Other guests in addition to the British vocal and instrumental group will be Duke Ellington, the great jazz pianist and composer and actress Helen Hayes.

Randy Kinnear is bride of Gary Pierzchala

A wedding of interest was solemnized in Calgary on Friday, October 8, 1965, at 4 p.m. when Randy Anne, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kinnear of Coleman, became the bride of Gary John, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierzchala of Hillcrest.

Father Denis Fleming, recently of Coleman, performed the marriage rites in Pious X Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a cocktail-length gown of white satin and lace, empire fashion. Her veil was chapel length and she carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Darlene Kordberg of Calgary, chose a turquoise organza for her gown and head-piece. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mr. Stanley Lieskovsky, formerly of Hillcrest, now of Calgary, attended the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kinnear chose a teal blue wool dress with beige accessories. Mrs. Pierzchala chose a two-piece beige dress with brown accessories.

After the ceremony a haquet was held in the "Haggis Room" of the Highlander Motel, with Father Fleming offering Grace.

Mr. John Ramsay of Coleman, grandfather of the groom, proposed the toast to the bride.

For a short honeymoon in Banff, Jasper and Edmonton the bride chose a two-piece wool suit of deep blue with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierzchala have taken up residence at No. 5, 1404, 1st St. N. W., Calgary.

Engagement Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wavrecan announce the engagement of their only daughter, Helen Adela, R.N., to Mr. Russell Vernon Peake, only son of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Peake of Lymminster, Alberta. Wedding to take place on Friday, November 12, St. Pious the X., Roman Catholic Church in Calgary.

Card of Thanks

It is our pleasure to express our deepest appreciation to everyone who honored us on our 25th Wedding Anniversary party in the Elks hall on October 2nd.

Our sincere thanks for the lovely gifts, flowers, cards and those who made a donation but could not attend.

A special thanks to the hostesses and everyone who helped in any way in making it such a wonderful success.

Thank you so much.
